The Learning Loop

Learn it. Keep it.

- Quiz — 3'
- Watch — 5'
- Check — 2'
- Make it stick — 5'
- Talk — 10'
- Bottom line — 5'

Worked example: Gewaltenteilung CH

1 — Quiz

Guess first

Three questions. Vote with your hands.

1. Who elects the seven Bundesräte? A the people · B parliament
2. Can the Bundesgericht overturn a federal law? A yes · B no
3. Can anyone dissolve parliament early? A yes · B no

Keep score in your head. No phones. No notes.

Time

3m

2 — Watch

Watch to find out

Your mission:

1. Check your three guesses
2. Spot who checks whom
3. Note one surprise

Any good 5-min explainer (e.g. easyvote / SRF).

Time

5m

3 — Check

Were you right?

1. The Bundesrat is elected by parliament — not by the people.
2. No — the Bundesgericht must apply federal laws (Art. 190 BV). The check is the people: the referendum.
3. No — fixed four-year terms. Nobody sends parliament home.

Count your points. 3/3? Smug rights for the rest of the evening.

Time

2m

4 — Make it stick

Draw it from memory

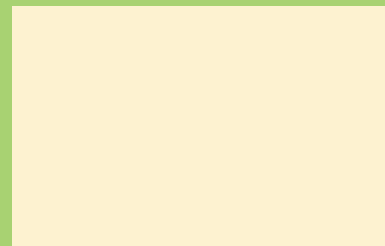

Note exercise 1 of 2 — one PostIt.

1. Sketch the triangle from memory:

Parliament — Bundesrat — Courts · arrows = who checks whom

2. Compare with your neighbour — fill the gaps

A man with dark hair, wearing a light blue button-down shirt and a grey backpack strap, is holding a cardboard VR headset over his eyes with both hands. He is smiling broadly, looking up and to the right. The background is a blurred indoor setting with warm lighting.

5 — Talk

What breaks first?

No PostIts. Just talk:

1. Where does corruption get cheap?
2. Who could still stop it?
3. The pitch to skeptics: nobody likes corruption.

Time

10m

6 — Bottom line

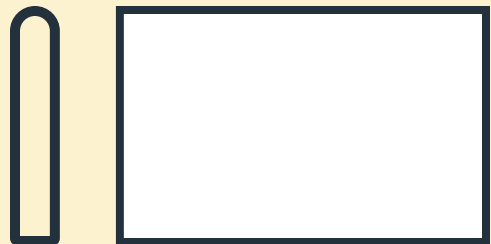

Your 30-second answer

Note exercise 2 of 2 — “Why Gewaltenteilung?”, one PostIt each.

“It’s the anti-corruption design: no power goes unchecked — in CH, even the people check the state.”

1. Read them out loud
2. Best one → Master Checklist
